Travel beyond Vasai- Virar and the lush greens, low rise settlements and clear skyline navigates one to Saphale. Settled amidst wilderness M.S. Pokar School and Junior College, a ground storied structure with a plenty of opportunities to develop as play spaces within its premises. Rizvi College of Architecture, Faculty and Semester V students in association with ANUKRUTI enjoyed participating in this genuine cause bringing a smile to children's faces. Wall Art, tyre seat painting and multi use play space was created within a rather neglected and dumped open space towards the rear side of the school premises which formed a perfect backyard! Pastel shades adorned the floral and landscape patterns on the compound wall running parallel to the play space stretching around 100 feet in length. A painter was assigned the task to paint the welded play structure and the school kids joined in the activity too. Cleaning the walls, tyres and painting the town red which also helped induce momentum and enthusiasm for the upcoming Independence Day celebrations. ANUKRUTI, Martina Spies was the driving force behind the wall art activity successfully navigating us through a power packed fun day.
