

“One child, one teacher, one book, one pen can change the world.” – Malala Yousafzai
On this day, we celebrate those who have tirelessly educated, shaped and brightened our lives every single day. On this day, we say thank you to those who have sparked the flame of creativity, humanity and understanding in our minds.
Today is for the teachers who teach not for the students, but for the future of the World itself. A hearty happy Teachers' Day to all the teachers of Rizvi College of Architecture and around the Globe.
